

More than accredited courses: an e-learning program designed to optimize outcomes for the Warrior Community.

THE PROBLEM

Delivering optimal care to the Warrior Community patient population is the goal of any hospital's Veteran care program. That goal requires that a full cross-section of professionals in a facility—providers, support staff, and executives—are prepared to deliver that care. But the vast majority of healthcare professionals are unfamiliar with the unique needs of this population, much less how to treat them.

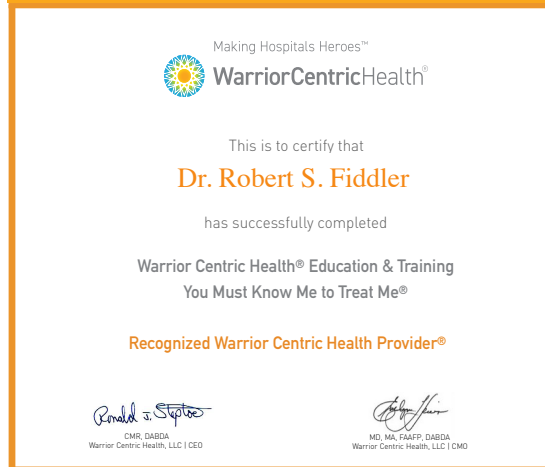

While there are various Veteran care courses professionals can access, no combination of these courses integrates the cultural and clinical dimensions of Warrior care, which are fundamental to achieving the healthcare facility's goal. Absent a fully integrated and comprehensive approach to education and training, hospitals' and providers' CME/CE spending is simply not aligned with the goal of optimizing care for this vulnerable population.

THE SOLUTION

Over a decade in development, Warrior Centric Health Education & Training has been designed from the bottom up to enable a healthcare facility's providers and staff to deliver optimal care to the facility's entire Warrior Community population.

The foundation of this program is the standard of care developed by the Warrior Centric Team, in partnership with governmental, medical and research university partners. Called YOU MUST KNOW ME TO TREAT ME®, this standard of care pays particular regard to the cultural and clinical dimensions of Warrior care, which are fundamental to optimizing outcomes.

Completing a curriculum earns Professional Recognition.

All WCH Education & Training is fully CME/CE Accredited.

Each curriculum is built to move participants in an intentional way from participation, to action, to measurable outcomes. Additional courses are also offered to increase the professional's ability to treat Warrior Community patients optimally.
